The Best Show in the City

The Coolest Place in Anderson

SHERLOCK HOLMES, JR., HERE

ANDERSON O. K. TO THE MAN OF MYSTERY

Hunt to Begin Monday Afternoon---

My picture has been placed under seal in the vaults of the Bank of Anderson under the personal care of Mr. B.F. Mauk, president, where it will be kept until this contest ends. This is a safeguard to myself and the public. When the picture is withdrawn and placed on display, each person will quickly tell that I am the same individual who has impersonated the part through-out.

In selecting a banking institution, I always do so with the idea of progressiveness, conservatism and accommodation. You will find all three at the Bank of Anderson.

(By Sherlock Holmes, Jr.)
How are you?
In the words of the great American Four-Flusher, I am "dee-lighted," Dear old Anderson!

Looking for me?
Well, this is so sudden!
But anyway, here I am, and here I am to stay for a little while, for I am a permanent fixture in the town. I am a permanent fixture in the town. I am a permanent fixture in the town.

To be honest about it, I am tickled to death with your town. Your buildings are fine, your stores compare favorably with towns twice your size, your homes are a credit to your city and your girls—but my modesty prompts me to hush.
When did I arrive? What do I look like and where am I stopping?
Pardon me please, but when I was a little fellow they always taught me not to tell tales out of school, and so I have stuck to my youthful teachings. I cannot tell you these things, but just to help you out I will give you a slight description.

Five Description.
I am less than seven feet tall; I may be a blonde, and sometimes I am taken for a brunette. I weigh something less than five hundred pounds. I attend all churches with tall steeples—and without; in politics I am subject to change without notice. My eyes are sky-blue-brown and I am always eternally on the job. So there you are. That is the very best I can do for you, and the rest of it is up to you.

I was up in the mountains having a good time. I had hardly reached my destination when a telegram came: "Come to Anderson first train," and before you could say cat three times I was here.

I have walked about a little to familiarize myself as much as possible with your city before the day when some of you are going to make it a little warm for me. You know it takes time to learn the town and people, but I am here with the goods and you can count upon my delivering them. I will not have to worry however about where I will build a home here if I decide to locate. To tell the truth about it I have picked out my lot. College Heights is so far ahead of any other section of the city that I did not have to think twice. This part of the city will always be known as the best residence section. One has a sweeping unobstructed view in all directions. It is truly a charming spot for a home. Owing to its location the College Heights Land Co. has been able to plan out a most unique and attractive arrangement for a private park and every lot is a desirable one.

Have I been to the postoffice? Who, me? Well, I should murmur. I was there yesterday and called for my mail at the general delivery window. Well, here goes one on Dr. Campbell, the Optometrist. I called on the Dr. yesterday and he never for one minute suspected who I was. I waited for quite a while to speak to him, as he had a dozen or more patients and my visit was only a social one. The last time I saw Dr. Campbell he was in Key West, Florida. If he has as many friends here as he has in Key West, then it is a safe bet that he is not lacking any. If you are looking for a specialist to fit you a pair of glasses, then you don't have to go very far. You will find Dr. Campbell unexcelled anywhere in this country.

Kinder slid about in spots yesterday. Walked into the Coca-Cola Bottling Co. plant and looked it over. I always get a line on the Coca-Cola plant the first thing. I want to say right here, too, they have a dandy outfit there. I am told Mr. Ramer, the manager of the plant, is almost a crank when it comes to giving his trade a pure article in the one best drink known to civilized man. He has every wrinkle known to the bottler's trade that will help to keep his product up to the highest notch as a perfect soft drink.

I guess this is going some. I walked over to the G.F. Tolly & Sons Furniture Store yesterday. I wanted to talk to Mr. Tolly but he was busy showing a lady and gentleman a bed spring. I heard the lady say: "I want one that won't fear a sheet." Talk about pretty things, if you don't find them down there then I miss the set. It would take you a week to see all of his stock, but when it comes to high grade furniture this store takes the blue ribbon. If you have not been through this store lately then you have a treat coming to you.

I don't know how the rest of you fellows feel about it, but I know what I am going to do when I build here. The Anderson Hardware Company will get my order to equip a jam up bath room. I see this store has the Standard Sanitary Manufacturing Co. line. Of course there are other makes but this line is dependable and when you equip your bath room right you are not going to an expense, but putting in your home a lasting investment. Of course I am not mad about it. You can do just as you please. Put in an old cheap outfit if you want to, but your truly will give the Anderson Hardware Co. the job.

I had an argument last night with a fellow. He took issue with me when I said Anderson was the best lighted town in the south. I still say it, and just to go a little further I will say it is the best lighted town in the entire country for its size. I have seen them all and I want him to wait up his town. I understand, too, that this great white way was just put up here by the Southern Public Utilities Co. at their own expense. I am told it cost about $10,000. This looks to me like a big donation to your city, property and to my knowledge is the first white way that was ever given a city. Geowillikens and Lemina's ghost! The way they were unloading paint yesterday when I passed the Anderson Paint & Color Co. store was pretty good evidence that the town is going to take on a new fall coat. I stopped long enough to ask a few questions and was told that Mr. Dugan sold in this city. He is a paint expert and the people here are fast learning that it pays to buy paint from a man who knows the kind of paint that is best suited to this climate. This is the largest exclusive paint house, I am told, in the Piedmont section.

When it comes right down to brass tacks I have rattled along and left out a dozen incidents that I wanted to tell you about. I will simply have to give them to you in my next story. But I must tell you where you will find the duplicate scarf pin. Drop by the T. L. Cely Co. and you will find it in their display window. Remember this is the best tip to my identity. Another thing I want to tell you that I have visited every city in this old country and a number outside of Uncle Sam's borders, but I have never run into a haberdasher that had anything on the T. L. Cely Co. when it comes to handling the very latest in styles and first quality goods in their line.

My manager is a nice fellow, but he has fits sometimes. He has just put it up to me that I am to visit the Bijou Theatre every afternoon and night while here. I will do my best to please him but this is certainly expecting me to go some! I am glad the Norene St. Clair Stock Co. is billed there this week. They are exceptionally good. They will play "The Sweetest Girl in Dixie" Monday and give an entire change of program every night. The pictures will be a feature, too.

Be sure to get a line on the scarf pin at the T. L. Cely Co. store.

The contest for the $25 will be on Monday afternoon from 3 to 6. At night I am only subject to capture while visiting the Bijou Theatre.

Don't you think this is an easy way to make $25? May the best one win is the sincere wish of

Yours, truly,
SHERLOCK HOLMES, Jr.

ANOTHER ONE NAILED

Shealy Not Getting Such a Fine Salary Says His Deputy.

Lexington, S. C., Sept. 5.—The charge made in some sections that Frank W. Shealy "is giving up a position that pays between five and six thousand dollars per year to run for an office that pays only nineteen hundred," is a wilful misrepresentation of the truth, according to a statement made by D. R. Haltiwanger, deputy clerk of court, and manager of this end of Mr. Shealy's campaign today.

"I have been deputy clerk of court of this county for two years," said Mr. Haltiwanger, "and during these 2 years the office of clerk of court has not paid as high as three thousand dollars for either year. Deduct from this amount the salary of the deputy and the young lady who is employed in the office and figure out for yourself how much is left for the clerk, to say nothing of the large responsibility and worry that necessarily is attached to the office of clerk."
